WE DEDICATE
THIS
1945 HELIOS ANNUAL

IN MEMORIAM

We pause in this hour of worldwide strife to pay tribute to those who have given their lives for the ideals dear to a peace-loving people. These boys, who once walked in the halls of Central, will never do so again, but their gallant spirit and sacrifice will always be a part of Central. They were good classmates and they were fine American soldiers. We hereby promise ourselves that they have not died in vain.

INTRODUCTION

This year Central has faced a war-torn world. We have carried on with our seemingly small tasks for our brothers, fathers, friends, and enemies.

Some of our courses for graduation would be impossible if we had part-time teachers enrolled in them, and as a result many teachers carried an overload. This year at Central has not been tranquil. We have felt the loss of our classmate teachers very greatly. Yet traditions have not been forgotten, and we have overcome many difficulties. We have survived.

FACULTY

'They also serve' surely can be said of the teachers of Central High School in these busy and trying war days. We did not all 'stand and wait', for some of us enlisted in the armed services. Most of us saw Lieutenant Irwin and Lieutenant Waters when they visited us in February, and admired the uniforms that they honor and that through their service, honor Central. A number of our teachers — both men and women — had war defense jobs last summer.

A number of Central's faculty are doing volunteer war work of various kinds, outside of school hours. Two teachers go with a Red Cross group once a week to Percy Jones Hospital in Battle Creek to instruct convalescent soldiers in hand craft. Another serves as volunteer clerk several hours a week at the YMCA, where help also is needed. Many more have been active in Red Cross work — making surgical dressings and knitting.

We are busy people. We are fewer in number, and so our work is heavier. Classes are larger; there are more extra class tasks for all — tasks that are extra in more ways than one; study halls — those joyous "study" halls are larger — much larger. Oh, indeed we are busy people! We are glad to do our extra share — unglamorous and ordinary and unexciting as it is — for Central's life and Central's girls and boys are our life and our responsibility.

Yes, the teachers of Central High also serve.

ANNUAL helios

War conditions definitely have retarded the creation of the 1945 Helios Annual. These were our first big war year. After a rapid exchange of letters with the administration, we began to work on the annual. We have worked hard trying to produce an annual which would be a record of the war year, 1945.

At last, Central has a newspaper. The student body

The Sock and Buskin Club has really been on the go. Displaying much talent, Sock and Buskin members have been standing in radio and dramatic productions. We are carrying on the Memorial Fund which we initiated last year. When the war is won, this fund will be used for building a monument in memory of the gold star Centralites. We will also be giving a measure of service to the war effort.

Since the 1910's the Central High School has been the pride of the Suffolk County. It has been the center of the community and the heart of the school system. The year we have just closed is the most successful in the history of the school. At the end of the year we have a record of 100% attendance and 100% graduation. The Central High School is a place where students want to help to make Central an even better school than it is.

The Classical Club is made up of students who would delve into the study of the classics. As a guide we have chosen the book "The Classics" by H. W. Marshall. This book has added much wit and wisdom to the study of the classics. It has been very helpful in the study of the classics. The club has contributed to the Red Cross fund, books for the library — and has been a great help to the school. The contributions of the Classical Club to Central life

The A Cappella Choir is a group of students who are interested in singing. They are a well-known group in the school and have been for many years. They have a repertoire of songs that they perform at various times throughout the year. They are a very talented group and have won many awards for their performances. They are a very important part of the school's musical program. By providing enjoyment and an opportunity for students to express themselves, the A Cappella Choir has been an important part of the school's musical program.

G.A.A.

The Girls Athletic Association, organized by Miss Freeman, is the central point of the many things that we would like to see done for the girls of Central. It is a place where we can find out what we are doing and what we are to do. We are very proud of what we have accomplished and we are sure that we will continue to do so. G.A.A. has been faced with many problems and has always met them with a smile. It was our first high school and we were the first to have a G.A.A. for the way in which it has met this responsibility, for instilling in us from the very beginning the qualities for which Central stands.

FOOTBALL

The following week a supposedly underdog Union team forced the Hilltopper squad farther down in the league standings when they displayed a strong pass offense that gave them two touchdowns and enough to defeat a fighting team from Central, 14-7. A highlight of this game was a spectacular 94-yard run by Central half-back Doug Wicks, that garnered Central its only touchdown in that game.

In the following game the Hilltoppers hit their stride and scalped Ottawa 27-7. The Indians were game but the well-oiled Central machine clicked with smoothness.

Catholic was next and in direct contrast to the lopsided Ottawa game, this one was hot. Catholic scored first and it was not until the third quarter that the Central offense functioned with any degree of efficiency. In this and in the final game of the season the Hilltoppers pushed over two touchdowns to equal the Catholic team.

In the season's finale, Central waged battle with Creston again. This time it was Creston that came out on top. The Creston team that took the field. It was a hard-fought game and not until the final gun sounded was it over. Neither side had the breakthrough advantage of them and it was to Creston's advantage that they gave them the needed margin for victory. The game ended in a 14-7 score in which our varsity tasted the bitterness of defeat, and received every benefit of the game.

CONCLUSION

It is with fond memories that we now end our last school year. So many things have happened that we shall not remember all, but we shall remember many. Central, you have served us well. We believe that you will carry on the Central spirit in the post-war years that are to come by giving the best you have to offer.

Our school days are over. Central, Goodbye forever. We shall love you always.
